

Beyond the Golden Triangle 15 days with 'Traveleyes'

Our Welcomer, Judy Large, has just returned from one of her 'enjoyable challenges' again. This time to India with 'Traveleyes', paying her way, while acting as 'eyes' for unsighted and partially sighted fellow travellers.

Judy has kindly agreed to share her excitement and experience with us.

Every picture will tell a story like the few below to whet your appetite. Judy has many more stories and pictures to share.

4th April 2017 with Judy Large commencing 11am

Here is an overview of the trip

India's spectacular Golden Triangle comprises New Delhi, Agra and Jaipur. This programme also gave the opportunity to discover the delights of other areas such as Udaipur, Bundi and Deogarh, with a safari in Ranthambhore to track elusive tigers. This ultimate tour of North India also included plentiful helpings of delicious Indian food and stays in some palatial heritage hotels.

The highlights include...

- ☯ The Bangla Sahib Sikh temple and the Gandhi Museum in Delhi.
 - ☯ Agra, including visits to the iconic Taj Mahal, to the 'Baby Taj' and to Agra Fort.
 - ☯ Game drives in Ranthambhore National Park - this is where Judy saw this tiger close up. A rare and privileged experience.
 - ☯ Bundi Fort and a walk round the Bundi night markets.
 - ☯ Exploration of the colossal Chittorgarh Fort, en route to Udaipur, a romantic city of lakes and marble palaces.
 - ☯ The rural town of Deogarh and a night in its impressive Mahal (Palace).
 - ☯ Jaipur - the Birla Temple, the Amber Fort and the City Palace
- before returning to Delhi for the flight home and a rest!
